Another great sale brought to you by Watchcommander

Originally released in 1974, this watch was a product of a collaboration between IWC and the German auto maker, Porsche. Porsche was responsible for the design and IWC for the manufacture. This watch is unusual in that it has a mechanical compass feature, signal mirror and sighting guides(at the 7 and 11 markers). Because of this, the watch case was made of aluminum instead of steel. This watch is the black anodized aluminum version. This automatic watch is from the 1970s.
